

HKCAAVQ International Conference 2020

Keynote Speech by Dr Carrie Yau, GBS, JP, Executive Director, Vocational Training Council

Topic: Quality Applied Education in the New Age

In today's ever-changing world, quality and relevant education is of paramount importance in building a competent and versatile workforce. Applied education which focuses on developing knowledge, skills and competencies to solve real world problems becomes the key. What can VPET providers do to prepare the next generations for the new age and facilitate the acquisition of future-proof skills? How can innovative partnerships further drive quality excellence in applied education? The session will focus on the latest development of applied education in Hong Kong and explore strategies in enhancing the quality of applied education for the betterment of young people, industry and the society at large.
